MDR Crankcase Stor-N-Start Oxidation-Resistant Anti-rust Motor Oil Additive For Winter Storage

Same type motor oil additive used by U.S. Military for storing of vehicles (MIL-L-21260). During storage, motor oil eventually drains off cylinder walls, pistons, rings and all other internal metal engine parts exposing them to rust. MDR Crankcase Stor-N-Start forms a protective shield on all internal parts preventing rusting during storage.

MDR Stor-N-Start Gasoline & Diesel Stabilizers

Fights gumming from fuel tank to the engine during winter storage

Pour STOR-N-START STABILIZERS in your fuel tank this fall for instant starts next spring. The U.S. Coast Guard, in its bulletin on winterizing recreational boats recommends, "installed tanks should be filled with fuel and have a fuel stabilizer added."

Corrosion Block

HOW IT WORKS: Corrosion Block anti-corrosion formula is a state-of-the-art, anti-corrosion/lubricant compound that has been specifically designed for marine use. It can be described as a clean, clear, ultra-thin fluid compound which leaves a non-greasy atmospheric barrier to protect metal. Corrosion Block leaves no gummy residue because it contains no wax, tar, asphalt, silicon or teflon. In addition, Corrosion Block seems to protect the flexibility of rubber and extend its life. These same powers make Corrosion Block a great penetrant and lubricant.

MDR Ethanol Gasoline E-XTEND™

Keeps E-10 Gas Refinery Fresh for up to 60 Days

- One ounce treats 6 gallons of E-10 gas
- Helps prevent sludge and gum in fuel tank
- Contains E-ZORB™ to help E-10's water tolerance
- Helps reduce corrosion & exhaust emissions
- Contains NO ALCOHOL or METHANOL

Tests indicate Ethanol gasoline (E-10) begins to degrade within 30-45 days. MDR's New E-XTEND™ has been formulated to increase the short lifespan and usability of E-10 for up to 60 days. E-XTEND contains antioxidants and degummers to help fight sludge, resin deposits and gum from forming in the fuel tank, keeping fuel filters cleaner.

If necessary, E-ZORB can be used along with E-XTEND to help Ethanol gasoline stay refinery fresh and usable, allowing engines to run at peak performance.
